Kathy’s response to accepting this award:

“As officials, we are just another team in the game. We do not compete against others, but rather work for and with the players and coaches with whom we share the court to keep the game safe and fair. Some outstanding coaches at Foxborough High taught us not only how to play, but also why we would do things in specific ways to succeed within the rules. That extra layer of understanding and respect for the game which they shared with us has carried over into my career as an official, a trainer of officials, as well as an educator. Every student athlete deserves to have the same opportunity that my teammates and I had.
